CACAXTLA AND CHOLULA

Cacaxtla is an archaeological site at 11 miles/ 19 kilometers south of Tlaxcala. The place outstands for the great conservation of its murals. The Cacaxtla murals were elaborated with local minerals, the basic used colors were white, black, red, brown, yellow and blue.

The archaeological zone of Cholula, site of the largest pyramid in Mesoamerica, with nearly a million cubic meters, is the most important explored prehispanic settlement until now in the state of Puebla, and one of the principal explored sites along with the altar square.
