GASTRONOMIC CITY TOUR

The gastronomy of Puebla has been of great importance, since it is in this place that the most antique remains of sweet potato and corn cultivations have been found. Its gastronomy is the outcome of the fusion of the local pre-columbian and spanish cook, owing to the spanish colonial period in the country. All the gastronomic dishes are internationally recognized because of their variety and history.

ITINERARY

The meeting point will take place at the Zócalo, just in front of the fountain.

We will visit:

- The cathedral, known as the cathedral of Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception, and a couple of meters away, we will have our first tasting, a delicious “Molote”, which is a fried corn empanada, filled as you wish, accompanied with sour cream, sauce and a soda.
- The second stop will be at the famous Palafoxiana library, later, we will walk to the Zócalo and to the miniature scale model of the city.
- Our second street food snack will be a Taco árabe, which is a flour tortilla filled with pork meat and hot sauce, accompanied with a really cold beer.
- Visit to the Rosario chapel, considered as the eighth wonder of the new world
- We will visit the Artist area “Barrio del artista”, and around the place, we will make a stop at a small local restaurant for a delicious “mole” tasting
- “El Parian” a handcraft market and the toads alley.
- Our last stop will be for a cemita tasting and finally with a typical “churro” accompanied with a hot beverage.
