

CANTONA AND CHEESE – Unlimited Experiences

Duration: 9 hours

Difficulty: Intermediate

Mode: Transportation + Archaeological Walking Tour

A Lost City Among Volcanoes and a Lagoon from Another Planet

A lost city among volcanoes and a lagoon from another planet. Cantona is one of Mexico's best-kept secrets: a monumental pre-Hispanic city surrounded by volcanic landscapes and stone pathways that tell ancient stories. Nearby lies Alchichica, a crater lagoon with turquoise waters, famous for its surreal beauty and for hosting microorganisms studied by NASA. You will also visit a local ranch where you'll enjoy a cheese tasting and learn the traditional process of crafting artisanal cheese. A perfect day for curious travelers and lovers of archaeology and nature.

Description

We begin with a journey into the semi-desert region of Puebla to visit a local ranch, where you will experience rural life and participate in an artisanal cheese workshop, learning the traditional production process while enjoying a tasting. Afterward, we will explore Cantona, a fortified city that once reached more than 80,000 inhabitants and featured over 500 stone causeways. You will walk among pyramids, ball courts, terraces, and structures that reveal impressive pre-Hispanic urban planning. Next, we head to Tepeyahualco, where you can enjoy local cuisine (optional) before continuing to one of the most striking landscapes of the Mexican highlands: Alchichica Lagoon. This crater lake stands out for its highly mineralized waters, deep blue tones, and unique formations that host microorganisms studied for their similarity to conditions on Mars.
